

As Advanced Manufacturing Forum's preferred legal suppliers, Ward Hadaway run a 'hotline service' exclusively for its members.

Many of you will already have met Jamie Gamble, an employment partner at the firm, at one of the AMF meetings or HR Forums. You may also have met Matthew, an expert on commercial matters, who attends the AMF events.

However Ward Hadaway is a full service law firm. Based on the Quayside in Newcastle, we offer advice in all areas of business, as well as personal matters too.

Our hotline service gives AMF members the chance to run a quick query – about any legal matter – by one of our lawyers, completely free of charge. By a quick query we mean up to a 15 minute phone call. If the matter needed to be taken further, we would of course discuss costs with you before going any further.

So – why not give us a try?!

Contacting us is easy – please ring Jamie or Matthew using the details below, and they will do their best to help you, or introduce a colleague who can.
